CITY COUNCIL WANTS TO BREAK POLICE SERVICES BORROWING CYCLE

MILLCREEK. The City Council believes that your property tax dollars are better spent on police services than on paying interest on a loan. To do that, we must break a borrowing cycle that has been in place long before our city incorporated.

For years, Millcreek citizens paid for police services by paying property taxes to the Salt Lake Valley Law Enforcement Service Area (SLVLESA). In theory, the taxes collected in December of each year would be used to pay the Unified Police Department (UPD) for services throughout the ensuing year.

The reality was different. Instead of using collected taxes to pay for future services, SLVLESA was always a nearly a year behind. SLVLESA had to borrow money each year to pay UPD's monthly invoices. The taxes collected in December were used to pay off the loan, and then SLVLESA had to borrow again to pay for most of the new year's police services.

Millcreek inherited this borrowing cycle upon leaving SLVLESA at the end of 2017. Thus, to pay for 2018 police services, Millcreek had to borrow the funds. In December 2018, Millcreek will owe its lender approximately $10 million plus interest. The loan will be paid from the 2018 property taxes, and Millcreek will have to again borrow to pay for 2019 police services.

But what if the property taxes collected were sufficient to not only pay off the current year's loan, but also to pay for 13 instead of just 12 months of police services?

Safety Education

Each year, we would have to borrow less and less, until eventually, the City would no longer have to borrow to pay for police services.

We are currently in the process of preparing budgets for the fiscal year July 2018 to June 2019. This is one of the many strategies the City Council is considering to save Millcreek citizens money. We are interested in knowing what you think.

Big Ideas Online Survey

MILLCREEK. We are in the process of creating our first General Plan, which will guide future growth and development over the next ten to fifteen years. We are looking to you for important feedback on big ideas and big choices that will ultimately be used to inform the first draft of the General Plan (Millcreek Together), to be released for public review and comment in Summer 2018.

To provide participation options for all levels of interest and time, three online surveys have been created to gather input. Feel free to take all three. The surveys will close on April 16, 2018.

Survey #1: Short on time? Take the short 4 question survey to answer the most pressing questions facing Millcreek today. Take Survey #1 here.

Survey #2: Want to dive in deeper? Take the Virtual Workshop to provide feedback on big ideas for how the General Plan can meet and accomplish the community vision for Millcreek. Take Survey #2 here. Would you rather take this survey by hard copy? Download and print the workbook here.

Survey #3: Interested in design ideas for proposed opportunity areas (Town Center, Urban Center, and Village Centers)? Take the Visual Preference Survey. Take Survey #3 here.
