Salt Lake Marathon Will Affect Travel in Millcreek

MILLCREEK. It's April. That means it's time for the annual Salt Lake marathon.

Not tomorrow, but next Saturday, April 21st, bicyclists, hand-cyclists, runners, walkers, and stragglers will make their way through the streets of Millcreek on their quest to complete the full 26.2-mile marathon.

From 6:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., many streets and intersections in Millcreek will be closed to traffic. The map above shows the route through Millcreek the racers will be following. Click here and scroll down to see the full race route, which starts at the Olympic Legacy Bridge at the U and ends in downtown Salt Lake City.

You'll need to plan your Saturday accordingly.

SKYLINE INFORMATIONAL REBUILD PUBLIC PROCESS BECOMES CONTROVERSIAL

MILLCREEK. More than 150 people attended the Skyline High Rebuild Committee's informational meeting this week. That made for standing-room-only in the school's Media Center.

The Granite School District (GSD) made a brief presentation about the planning progress, then asked the audience to break into smaller groups to have their questions answered individually.

Many in attendance loudly voiced frustration with that process, insisting instead on a public forum where all could hear the questions and answers. The small sessions went forward as planned, but the GSD then reconvened with the group for questions/answers. Only about one-third of the attendees remained, but GSD representatives answered questions for almost three more hours.

Many attendees have expressed disappointment that their concerns about the rebuild have not been adequately heard or considered. Mayor Silvestrini, the Skyline PTSA, and the Skyline Community Council are working with the GSD to organize at least one more public meeting in the next few weeks. The meeting will take place in a larger space and in a public forum format that allows all in attendance to hear the questions and answers. Stay tuned.

SCOTT PARK TREE PLANTING

MILLCREEK. You may have noticed some changes to Scott Avenue Park. Salt Lake County is required by state authorities to remove trees from all levees in the county for flood mitigation. Scott Avenue Park is a levee, so unfortunately, many trees were recently removed.

But there are plans to plant 20 new trees later this week, in a different part of the park

TreeUtah, with help from the County's Zoo, Arts and Parks foundation, as well as the Alliance for Community Trees, the Arbor Day Foundation, and Traeger Grills, will be in the park on Wednesday morning, April 18th, from 9 AM to noon. They'd love your help! The trees and tools will be provided--all you need are closed-toe shoes and clothes that can get dirty. Click here to register.

UTAH. The Great Utah ShakeOut takes place on Thursday, April 19 at 10:15 AM. Everyone is encouraged to drop, cover and hold on at that time. See below, or click here, to see why and how to do this. You can register here to participate in such activities as building evacuations, updating emergency supplies, and reviewing/refreshing family emergency plans.

PROTECT YOURSELF. SPREAD THE WORD.

Your past experience in earthquakes may give you a false sense of safety; you didn't do anything, or you ran outside, yet you survived with no injuries. Or perhaps you got under your desk and others thought you overreacted. However, you likely have never experienced the kind of strong earthquake shaking that is possible in much larger earthquakes: sudden and intense back and forth motions of several feet per second will cause the floor or the ground to jerk sideways out from under you, and every unsecured object around you could topple, fall, or become airborne, potentially causing serious injury. This is why you must learn to immediately protect yourself after the first jolt... don't wait to see if the earthquake shaking will be strong!

In MOST situations, you will reduce your chance of injury if you:

DROP where you are, onto your hands and knees. This position protects you from being knocked down and also allows you to stay low and crawl to shelter if nearby.

COVER your head and neck with one arm and hand

- If a sturdy table or desk is nearby, crawl underneath it for shelter
- If no shelter is nearby, crawl next to an interior wall (away from windows)
- Stay on your knees; bend over to protect vital organs

HOLD ON until shaking stops

- Under shelter: hold on to it with one hand; be ready to move with your shelter if it shifts
- No shelter: hold on to your head and neck with both arms and hands.

Click here for an explanation of why official rescue teams, emergency preparedness experts and others recommend "Drop, Cover, and Hold On" as the best way, in most situations, to protect yourself during an earthquake.

REMINDER. A couple of months ago, we explained that Comcast is updating its infrastructure in various parts of Millcreek to add fiber optic cable and new delivery nodes. You may be getting a notice on your door about the interruption of service, or their work on telephone poles in your back yard. Click here to see the newsletter story.

SAVE THE DATE: Community Wildfire Preparedness Day, Saturday, May 5th at Evergreen Park, 9 am to noon. More info to follow.

SAVE THE DATE: Golden Spoke Rides and Event, sponsored by Wasatch Front Regional Council, Saturday, June 2nd. More info to follow.

ERRATA. The City is paying 2.5% per annum, i.e., per year, on its current loan for police services. Our March 30, 2018 newsletter erroneously stated this as a monthly interest amount. Many apologies!
