EAST MILL CREEK COMMUNITY COUNCIL

EMCCC has a few openings for volunteer members. Contact Chair Lee Ann Hansen

Wintery Night Inauguration Celebration Was Big Success

More than six hundred Millcreek residents, dignitaries, friends, and families came out the snowy evening of January 3, 2017, to celebrate the birth of our new city. Local schools and community groups provided musical entertainment, and many local businesses contributed the best pastries in the valley -- yum!

Our brand new city officials were sworn into office that evening. Thank you, Mayor Jeff Silvestrini, Silvia Catten (D1), Dwight Marchant (D2), Cheri Jackson (D3), Bev Uipi (D4), for all of the work you've been putting in since the election, and particularly over the holidays, to help get Millcreek up and running.

at 801-631-5492.

PLANNING COMMISSION TRAINING

Time TBA

SNOW REMOVAL

Reminder to move your car from the street so the snowplow drivers can do their jobs.

Report chronic offenders to the UPD at 385-468-9620. Snow removal information and complaints can be made at Salt Lake County's 24-hour number: 385-468-6101.

Many thanks to the generous contributions of local businesses and residents, who fully funded the party. Please recognize our local businesses by patronizing their stores and services! (See the complete list below, with addresses).

Shout-outs also to Wasatch Jr. High School, the Millcreek Arts Council, Canyon Rim Neighborhood Strings, the Skyline Madrigals, James E. Moss Elementary Choir, Millcreek Elementary Strings, Flint and Steel, the Utah Tongan Community Singers, the Unified Fire Authority, the Unified Police Department, the Grant Stake 11-year-old Scout Patrol, Kerri Cronk, Fred Healey, Salt Lake County Mayor Ben McAdams, all the parents, and all of the volunteers who helped set up, run, and take down the event.

As Mayor Silvestrini remarked at the ceremony, "Millcreek is just an awesome place to live."

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Volunteerism is What Makes Millcreek Work

Special thanks are due to many individuals in addition to our elected representatives, who have volunteered much time and energy to help Millcreek get started. We will recognize them individually over the next few weeks in this newsletter. Several who worked hard over the November/December holiday season, are lauded below:

David Muir, whose day job is Cottonwood Heights' treasurer and financial reporting manager, has selflessly contributed hundreds of hours pulling together information, making presentations to the Council, and offering well-experienced advice. Dave prepared Millcreek's tentative budget from information he collected from the County and several cities.

Leslie Van Frank, who is Mayor Silvestrini's wife and law partner, has volunteered to be Millcreek's acting city recorder until such time as Millcreek has funds to hire an experienced one. Leslie has been preparing the City Council's weekly agendas and minutes, following the legal requirements for noticing-up meetings, and keeping track of Millcreek's documents. She also created and maintains the city's temporary website <http://millcreekut.org>, and directs preparation of this weekly newsletter.

Tom Stephens and John Jansen, who were both members of the former Millcreek Township Planning Commission, have been shepherding through our new planning ordinance. They've studied hundreds of pages of the County Code, pulled together development standards followed by the County that weren't in the Code, and begun preparing proposed changes that will begin to move our planning visioning process forward.
