IT'S TIME TO FREAK OUT!

Every October in Millcreek tons of people get really freaked out about—Millfreaks! Held in Canyon Rim Park, Millfreaks is a fun, free Halloween-style carnival. Thousands of people (many in costume) attend and enjoy food vendors, activities, and community.

Millfreaks has been a Millcreek tradition for over a decade. Activities differ a little each year, but the annual pumpkin smash can always be counted on. An intrepid Millcreek volunteer is raised high into the air to drop pumpkins onto targets below while the crowd cheers her or him on.

There are also games, prizes, treats, music, food, buskers and street performers. And the famous Zombie Run. Make sure you register for the Run at ventureout.org.

Join us at Canyon Rim park for Millfreaks on Saturday, October 19 from 3-6:30 pm. And bring your friends, family, and neighbors to enjoy a real fun freakfest.

Here's Millie!

MILLIE MILLCREEK

The mornings are fresh and crisp, and leaves are changing into stunning hues. I am in L-O-V-E with color. We are officially into fall, my favorite time of year! When I was growing up, my mom made it a point to make our home feel warm and inviting, especially as the days got shorter and the nights became cooler. Here are a few ideas to bring the spirit of fall into your heart and home:

- Stop into one of Millcreek's fabric shops and get some new fabric for a cozy blanket
- Purchase a pumpkin or two
- Pick up some pine cones and put them in a glass jar for decoration inside your home
- Grab a scarf and go for a walk outside; drink in the season and enjoy the chill on your face
- Put some orange peels and cinnamon in a pot with some water on the stove and simmer
- Make a hot bowl of popcorn (with too much butter and salt)
- Break out a comfy sweater, and curl up with a good book
- Sit outside and savor a fresh apple
- Have a chili cook off with some neighbors or friends
- Go to one of the local high school football games
- Attend one of the MANY fall activities offered in Millcreek
- Don't miss going outside on October 13th to see a gorgeous Harvest moon
- Clip some corn stalks from a neighbor's garden and put them on your front porch

No matter what you decide to do this fall, make sure to stop and recognize the beauties that surround us. If nothing else, listen to the leaves crunching softly under your feet whether it is in your own back yard, or Millcreek Canyon. I know I will.

XOXO
Millie

Meet Our Millcreek Youth Council

BUILDING FUTURE COMMUNITY LEADERS NOW

You've probably seen them at various city events--a group of teenagers in gray shirts helping out with anything from repainting park benches and tables, to racing boats with kids at Sunnysvale Park. These hard-working volunteers are members of the Millcreek Youth Council! Typically comprised of 25 high school students from across the city, the Millcreek Youth Council works to include Millcreek youth in government affairs and provide opportunities for community service. Often, young people have a difficult time elevating their voices to be heard by their local government, so giving youth a platform cont. on page 6: Meet

MAYOR'S MESSAGE JEFF SILVESTRINI

How Are We Doing, Millcreek?

It's been 2 ½ years since Millcreek incorporated. In that time, we have started a new city government from scratch and taken responsibility for providing the municipal services you depend upon every day. We have lived within our means, without any tax increases by Millcreek, accumulated a 16% fund balance (reserve) and achieved an AA+ bond rating. We have launched planning efforts, sought grant funding for roads, sidewalks and similar capital projects and significantly revised the code of ordinances we inherited from the county. So how do our residents think we are doing? We have spoken with many of you over this short journey. We have answered numerous emails and phone calls, but we don't often get the opportunity to hear from the majority of you. We wondered what kind of report card Millcreek residents would give us, and we wanted to know how you think we could be a better city government. So, we did what many other cities and companies do to listen and hear their customers—we commissioned a survey.

We hired a reputable opinion research firm, Y2 Analytics. They designed questions intended to elicit your views on a variety of subjects to let us know how we were doing and what we can do better. Their survey cont. on page 8: How

MANY MILLCREEK GARDENERS FIND THEMSELVES AT HARVEST TIME WITH MORE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES THEN THEY KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH.

Fall brings apples, plums and lots of root vegetables. An overabundance of these delicious crops used to go to waste until in 2016, Pat Thomas founded Backyard GardenShare.

Backyard GardenShare distributes the surplus from local gardeners with the needs of local families, immigrants, and refugees. This simple produce-sharing program helps to directly combat hunger and malnutrition in our neighborhoods with healthy fresh food. It is a win-win for Millcreekers who have extra produce they hate to see wasted and those who could really use and appreciate it.

Since Backyard GardenShare began, over 50,000 pounds of fresh produce have been collected and distributed. 1 in 7 Utahns face hunger on a daily basis, but this program is a wonderful and simple way to do your part to help relieve that hunger.

To share your harvest, go to backyardgardenshare.org.

The New City Center Park is Coming

AS PART OF MILLCREEK'S EFFORTS to remove aged structures on a fault line, spur on economic development, and create a future gathering place for Utah's newest city we are moving forward with the city center park. Here are some critical milestones, met and anticipated:

APR 2019: The Millcreek Center Community Reinvestment Area is formed. This mechanism allows 75-80% of the new property taxes generated by new development in the city center area to go towards improvements there.

JUN 2019: The Community Councils, Planning Commission, Mayor and Council approve the City Center Masterplan calling for a linear park to straddle the fault line running between 3300 S and 1300 E.

JUL 2019: Millcreek earns a AA+ bond rating (the highest a city of our size can earn), ensuring an extremely low interest rate on a bond to obtain property and build the park. Bond payments will be made by the tax increment generated in the Community Reinvestment Area.

AUG 2019: Thanks to the new bond funds, Millcreek begins to acquire properties along the fault line for the park.

OCT 2019: A City Center Overlay Zone will be presented to Community Councils, Planning Commission, Mayor and Council to put guidelines in place to ensure high quality development alongside the park and in the City Center area.

FALL 2019: Park master planning conducted, including public open houses

WINTER 2019-20: Park architectural design and construction documents finalized.

Millcreek and SLC Reach Agreement on Brickyard Boundaries

Earlier this month, Millcreek's City Council and the Salt Lake City Council both approved an Interlocal Agreement (IA) to adjust certain boundaries between them. In the agreement, SLC will cede to Millcreek a part of the Brickyard that SLC annexed years ago. It will also give Millcreek the roundabout at the I-80 / 23rd East intersection.

Both cities will hold public hearings on the proposed boundary adjustments in November. The final ordinances approving will likely be finalized before the end of the year.

The Brickyard area that will become a part of Millcreek is the commercial area of SLC that is between Miller and Woodland Avenues, and east of 1300 East to Highland Drive. The 23rd East roundabout, also currently a part of SLC, is the northern gateway into Millcreek.

The IA gives Millcreek the right to collect all the property and sales tax revenue from the annexed Brickyard area, which generated a modest $61,000 for SLC last year. Annually for the next 10 years, Millcreek will pay that base amount of $61,000 to SLC, and keep all the tax revenue, including any over and above the baseline.

The IA also includes a commitment between SLC and Millcreek to cooperate on transportation and other solutions to make the Greater Brickyard Area function better and work harmoniously on both sides of 1300 East.

These boundary adjustments will allow Millcreek to do two things:

1. ENSURE BETTER PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT OF MILLCREEK'S CITY CENTER AREA. The newly annexed area bisects the planned City Center. Now, instead of being subject to different zoning, planning commissions, and city administrations, the area will be subject to Millcreek's development ordinances and approval processes.

2. ALLOW MILLCREEK TO ADDRESS THE COMPLAINTS OF NUMEROUS MILLCREEK RESIDENTS WHO HAVE OBSERVED THE LACK OF MAINTENANCE OF THE ROUNDABOUT AREA. The roundabout is a gateway into our city, which we will now be able to rid of the out-of-control weeds, and then xeriscape with a low-maintenance landscape.

In an eNewsletter last winter, we reported on how the annexation discussions between Millcreek and SLC came about. Initially cordial, the discussions were going nowhere. Then the Utah Legislature offered help that, with the full consent of the Brickyard property owners, could have led to Millcreek regaining the entire Brickyard area. Given the uncertain outcome of the proposed legislation and negotiation, as well as a deteriorating relationship between two municipal neighbors, Millcreek's City Council agreed that the IA was in the best interests of our city -- it recovers the area Millcreek needed to plan our City Center, and also secures a solid and friendlier working relationship with our northern neighbor.

Millcreek is a city of great neighborhoods and terrific neighbors. It's why we like living here. We share a long boundary with SLC and we have much in common. Both cities are socio-economically diverse, and share similar concerns about population growth, affordable housing, congestion and air quality. We have so much we can work on together, including, now, planning out the Greater Brickyard area coherently. We look forward to a great partnership as we work to maintain the things we both like about our neighboring cities.

You Matter. We Count.

Making Sense of the Census

The 2020 Census is fast approaching. Thomas Jefferson directed the first decennial census in 1790. As required by the US Constitution, a census has been taken every ten years thereafter. It involves a population and housing count of all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Island Areas.

The purpose of the Census is to provide current facts and figures about America's people, places, and economy. The law requires the Census Bureau to keep your information confidential, and only use your responses to produce statistics. Citizenship status will not be a question on the 2020 Census, and indeed, it is a federal crime to share census information with immigration enforcement agencies such as ICE.

This information has many purposes. It determines how many representatives each state gets in Congress. Communities use census statistics to account for resident needs, such as new roads, schools, and emergency planning. Businesses use census data to determine where to place their locations. Federal agencies use the results to distribute billions of dollars of federal funding where it is needed.

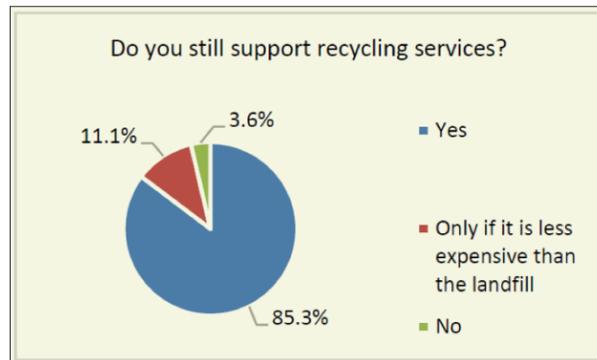

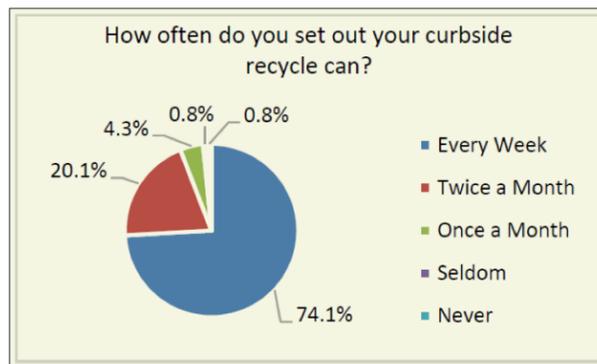

For the first time in 2020, you will be able to respond to the census online, by phone, or by mail. It will be available on Census Day: April 1, 2020.

For more information, visit census.gov.

Now you can Recycle your Mattresses

Spring Back Mattress (at 1929 South 4130 West) will take your used mattresses, and will recycle 100% of its materials! The recycling fee for mattresses is $10 per piece. They will also come pick up your mattress for an additional $40. This is a much better option than sending it to the landfill for $15 per piece and have it not be recycled.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, PLEASE CALL THEM AT 801-906-8146 OR GO TO SPRINGBACKUTAH.COM.

Results of Recycling Survey

In July, the Wasatch Front Waste & Recycling District conducted a District-wide Recycling Survey. Out of a total of 6,035 responses to this survey, 1,831 (30.3%) responses came from Millcreek.

Comments from residents in Millcreek have suggested changing to biweekly recycling collections to reduce costs. Yet 74.1% of respondents said they place their recycling can out each week. WFWRD says that this is within national averages.

The primary goal for the survey was to obtain information on district-wide support of continuing recycling efforts due to the increasing global challenges, and also to see if there would be a support for a fee increase to maintain Wasatch Front's services to you.

In Millcreek, 85.3% indicated that they support continued recycling services, and 86.1% showed that they would support a fee increase to continue their current level of services.

Is Your House Ready For Old Man Winter?

Summer is gone and winter is here so 'tis the season to winterize our homes!

Winterizing is simply just preparing our homes for the chilly winter winds, as well as helping our houses use less energy (possibly saving us a lot of $$$!)

Winterizing Checklist:

1. PROTECT YOUR PIPES

Water expands when it freezes, and could rupture your pipes. To prevent this, make sure to turn off and drain outdoor spigots.

2. WEATHERPROOFING

This includes weatherstripping or installing storm doors or windows. This will prevent cold air from entering the home, as well as keeping the warm air inside.

3. CAULK THE WINDOWS

Make sure to check all windows so that the caulk around them isn't damaged or missing. This will prevent cold air from entering through the windows.

4. ATTIC INSULATION

Most of the heat loss within a house will usually occur through gaps in the attic. Check to make sure you have the proper insulation, and ask any Home Improvement Center how much insulation is necessary.

5. PROGRAMMABLE THERMOSTAT

A programmable thermostat will allow you to customize the heating in your house, so that it won't run if the house is empty. Often times, this simple step can save up to 30% on your heating bill.

And that's it! Five simple steps and you will be well on your way to a more cozy cost effective home. If you want even more tips check out 35 Ways to Winterize Your Home at <https://home.howstuffworks.com/green-living/winterize-home-poisoning-family.htm> to input their thoughts opens the door to a city designed by everyone.

"The youth are the next generation of leaders, and they bring a fresh perspective to the table," says Jordan Hatch, Millcreek's Communications Specialist and Youth Council Advisor. "As they become more involved in the political sphere, prominent societal issues can be tackled with a new outlook."

The Millcreek Youth Council participates in a variety of community events, and often plan their own activities. This past summer, the Council helped out with the community Venture Out! events, hosting a book drive to collect literature for the Little Free Libraries program. In addition, the Council executed a park repaint project at the annual Canyon Rim Day of Service, and have held numerous Field Days at the Sunnyvale Farmers Market. Bubbles, chalk, some facepaint, and a handful of water guns is all it takes to turn a hot day into a fun (and drenched!) time.

Here's what some of the Youth Council's members have to say about their experience:

The Youth Council has made me realize how much of an impact us, the youth, can have in the community. It has also helped me develop my leadership skills and has taught me the importance of teamwork. -Abdul Mansoor

The Youth Council has helped me make new friends around my community and find out about ways I can make a difference to all those around me. I know that my voice is heard. -Sidney Harrison

It has been a great way for me to feel more comfortable in my new school and for me to have the ability to branch out. -Michael Donnelly

I love having a voice in topics that affect everyone and I am beyond grateful that I have been able to advocate for those who do not necessarily have a voice in our community. -Zoe Sudit

For questions/comments, please email them to youthcouncil@millcreek.us. # Don't Get Stuck With the Flu— Get Stuck With a Flu Shot Instead

Each year as the leaves start to fall—the flu virus ramps up. Unlike the common cold, the flu usually causes a severe illness with fever, body aches, chills, weakness, cough and headache. Flu can also become deadly for people:

- Over the age of 65
- With asthma, diabetes, or heart disease
- Who are pregnant
- Under 2 years old

Right now is the time to wash your hands often, avoid those who are sick, and—probably most importantly—get your annual flu shot.

You can find a place to get a flu shot in Millcreek at vaccinefinder.org or talk to your doctor or pharmacist.

Even with the best prevention—about 8% of people will get the flu each year. Anyone with the following symptoms should seek immediate medical treatment at the nearest Emergency Center:

- Trouble breathing
- Chest pain
- Seizures
- Severe muscle pain
- For a more complete list of high-risk symptoms visit: www.cdc.gov/flu/symptoms/symptoms.htm
