MILLCREEK. On Tuesday, Millcreek broke ground for Millcreek Common, the public plaza and open space that will become a gathering spot for all of Millcreek.

An ice ribbon, a splash pad, ground floor retail, and a food truck park, will be highlights of the open space plaza. Pizza Nono, the popular 9th and 9th establishment, will be opening a second location as the first eatery on Millcreek Common.

Invitations were unfortunately limited because of COVID-19 restrictions, but Mayor Silvestrini was joined at the groundbreaking by County Mayor Jenny Wilson, State Senator Jani Iwamoto, County Councilmembers Ann Granato and Steve DeBry, and the Millcreek City Council, as well as City staff and the chairs of Millcreek's Planning Commission and Community Councils. Representatives of EPG Design (who designed the open space) and Hogan Construction were also present.

Several enthusiastic young Millcreekers toted their ice skates to the ceremony in honor of and in anticipation of the ice ribbon. The City is hoping to have the ice ribbon open for Thanksgiving weekend.

Millcreek Common is Phase One of the Millcreek City Center Master Plan. The Master Plan was created in response to Millcreek residents' expressed desire for a vibrant and accessible city center. The anticipated completion date for Phase One is November 2021.

You can watch the recording of the groundbreaking ceremony and view artist renderings of Millcreek Common here. You can also watch Fox 13's story on the event here.

We look forward to the day when we all gather safely as friends and neighbors at Millcreek Common.

SPRINGTIME AND HONEY BEE SWARMS

As spring approaches, honeybees are becoming more active.
That often leads to more human interaction with bees -- usually as they swarm or as they start building in unwanted places.

Preserving bees helps our ecosystem and food supply. If you see a swarm, don't take matters into your own hands -- please leave it up to the experts.

For Help with a Swarm, call 801-69-BEES1 \(801-692-3371\) and leave a message with a description of the swarm, the location, and a call-back number or send an email to: wasatchbeekeepers@gmail.com. For more information, visit Honey Bee Swarms

Meetings with the Mayor

Fridays from 2-4pm have been set aside for citizens to meet with Mayor Silvestrini (virtually only for the time being). Please call 801-214-2700 to schedule a slot.
