The Federal Lands Access Program (FLAP) has awarded a grant of $15.3 million, which Salt Lake County will augment with an additional $4.2 million, for improvements to the canyon road between the Winter Gate and the Big Water Trailhead.

An open house for the public to review and comment on the plans will be held from 4:30 to 7 pm., this coming Tuesday, Nov. 9, at Millcreek City Hall, 3330 S. 1300 East.

“Mill Creek Canyon is our ‘back yard’ here in the City of Millcreek,” said Mayor Jeff Silvestrini. “With our population booming, it is imperative that we address access and safety in the canyon. We are happy that we have the opportunity that these grants will provide to improve this special place.”

Improvements will prioritize safety and access through roadway, crosswalks, and parking area enhancements, as well as the enhancement of users’ recreational experience through improved signs and informational wayfinding.

Salt Lake County Mayor Jenny Wilson said, “We’re thrilled we’ve been able to obtain this huge investment for Mill Creek Canyon; it’s treasured by people all across Salt Lake County, and I urge residents to provide feedback on the thoughtful improvements proposed by our staff and partners.”

Representatives from the Federal Highways Administration Central Federal Lands Highway Division, the USDA Forest Service, and local project team members will be available to answer questions about these Mill Creek Canyon improvements from the public during the open house.

Public input provided between Nov. 9 through Dec. 9, 2021, will be considered by the project partners during the initial design of the improvement project. Feedback can be submitted by completing a paper form at the open house on Nov. 9 or online at the project website <https://slco.org/planning-transportation/millcreek-road-improvements/>.
