JULY 3RD
INDEPENDENCE
EVE CELEBRATION
Big Air Show
 DRONES, LIGHTS, AND ACROBATICS

A Spectacular New July Tradition!

In 1777 the city of Philadelphia ushered in what would become the modern celebration of Independence Day with an official dinner, 13-gun salutes, music, parades, and fireworks. This year, we're inviting you to join Millcreek in building on that heritage by creating a new tradition with our Independence Eve Celebration.

On Monday, July 3rd, Millcreek Common will host a free Independence Eve Big Air Show. It's an evening of high-flying entertainment, acrobatics, and a drone light show. Enjoy roller skating, special Independence Day-themed concessions, desserts, and 21+ drinks will be available.

Here's Millie!

MILLIE MILLCREEK

Schoooooo's out! For! SUMMER!! Good weather and good times are here, and Milford and I CAN'T WAIT to start going on some adventures! We especially love finding free or cheap activities for date nights or fun for the whole family, and thankfully Millcreek has just what we're looking for.

Milford and I LOVE going to Venture Out every Friday!! These events are free and have something for everyone to enjoy! I personally think there's nothing better than sitting outdoors on a warm summer evening, surrounded by family, friends, and neighbors, devouring some delicious food from local food trucks, and enjoying a movie under the stars.

I'm a 70s/80s child (don't think about how that dates me!!), so you might say I'm an EXPERT in great music. Which is why the Canyon Rim Summer Jam Concert Series is right up my alley! Milford and I head to Canyon Rim Park every Monday night to hear some ROCKIN' local bands, and I'm not afraid to bust a move when I feel the groove!!

Of course, I love letting the good times ROLL at Millcreek Common's Skate Loop and Splash Pad! There are FREE activities every Monday-Friday for your little ones, DJ Skate Nights on the weekends, Food Truck Thursdays, as well as SO MANY events scattered everywhere in between! Just don't judge me on my skating abilities....

At the end of hot day, sometimes it's nice to just stay indoors where it's cool, and make a tasty cold snack, like homemade ice cream, freshly squeezed lemonade, or fruit pop-sicles! Milford and I love to eat our delicious homemade creations and pop in a classic summer movie, like The Sandlot (a personal favorite!!).

No matter what you choose to do this summer, remember to stay safe, drink plenty of water, and have a BLAST!!

XOXOXO,

Millie

Have fun but please be cautious.

Thanks, Youth Council!

Thirteen members of the Millcreek Youth Council have graduated and are moving on to the next phase of their lives.

These incredible people served our community selflessly, and we can't thank them enough for all their hard work.

They spent much of their time assisting Millcreek at the Venture Out! festivals and interacting with residents and their families. Members also found creative ways to help the community by organizing their own activities that assisted those most in need and made Millcreek a more beautiful place.

The Youth Council started off the new term by volunteering at the Canyon Rim Day of Service where they chose to do yardwork at The Sharing Place, beautifying the campus for incoming children. The members of the Youth Council loved the mission of The Sharing Place so much, that many months later, they involved the student bodies of Skyline, Olympus, and Cottonwood high schools to secretly gather much-needed supplies, and later surprise

80 Years of Millcreek Parade History

The East Mill Creek Lions Club 4th of July Parade has become an annual tradition that unites our community in a celebration of patriotism and heritage and has become one of the most anticipated annual events in Millcreek.

But did you know this unique celebration has been a Millcreek tradition for nearly 80 years?

The roots of the 4th of July Parade can be traced back to a group of visionary Lions Club members who, after the East Mill Creek Lions Club was chartered in 1943, were looking to establish an annual fundraiser. Inspired by the rich history and cultural fabric of Millcreek, they sought to create an event that would celebrate the community's spirit and provide an opportunity for families, friends, and neighbors to come together. Since then, money generated by the Lions Club has gone to support community projects that range from sidewalks and fire hydrants to the library and community center.

One aspect that has always made the Millcreek 4th of July Parade unique is that it largely excludes motorized vehicles in its short procession, traveling just five blocks down beautiful and historic Evergreen Avenue. Over the years, the parade has grown to include local businesses, schools, community organizations, and residents eager to contribute their creative floats, vibrant costumes, lively performances—and plenty of candy!

Even before our city incorporated, the Millcreek Lions 4th of July Parade was instrumental in fostering a strong sense of community pride and solidarity among Millcreek residents. From its humble beginnings to present-day, the parade has become a cherished tradition that unites Millcreek residents, fosters community spirit, and honors the vibrant heritage of our remarkable city. As the parade continues to weave through our community, it leaves behind a trail of joy, laughter, and cherished memories that will be treasured for generations to come.

For time and details about the parade and the day's festivities, visit emclions.org.

Language Learners Lauded Recently

In recognition of their achievements, six students who took part in an English class overseen by the English Skills Learning Center (ESLC) at Millcreek Common, were invited by the City Council to their May 22nd work meeting to be presented with graduation certificates.

These certificates recognized each student's hard work in passing their respective English levels with ESLC. After the small graduation ceremony, each graduate, along with ESLC staff, had the chance to enjoy a wonderful hot meal from O'Falafel, a local favorite. It was then the honor of the Mayor and Council to shake each graduate's hand after the work meeting was over.

Congratulations to these wonderful graduates and best wishes on their ongoing path to success in the United States.

The Sharing Place staff by dropping off several dozen pounds of cleaning supplies, office supplies, snacks, and much more! The Youth Council also assisted in back-to-school efforts by volunteering with the Granite Education Foundation and assisting other community members in filling several thousand meal kits! In the fall, the Youth Council hosted Millcreek's first ever Local Business Expo, where they invited nearly 20 local Millcreek businesses to table at Millcreek Common and gave these businesses an opportunity to sell their products and introduce themselves to the Millcreek community. In January, Youth Council members participated in Local Officials Day at the Capitol, an annual favorite, where they roleplayed in a mock committee hearing and had a hands-on activity where they learned how city officials plan and zone a city. Members celebrated Earth Day in the spring by cleaning up several pounds of trash in Tanner Park, all the while providing an example of how we should treat the beautiful world around us.

These are just a few examples of the many ways in which these incredible youth involved themselves in bettering the community throughout the year. The efforts and passion of the Millcreek Youth Council members and their willingness to help others is truly amazing and Millcreek owes each one our thanks. We will miss these graduates and wish them the very best in their future endeavors. They represent the best of the best, and Millcreek's future will be even brighter in their able hands.

AVOID HOT DOGS!

You are too cool to let your dog get too hot. Help them beat the heat.

AVOID HOT CARS: A 70-degree day inside of a car can exceed 116-degrees within 10 minutes. Cracking windows and parking in the shade isn't enough.

AVOID HOT PAVEMENT: When in doubt test the surface by placing the back of your hand on the pavement. If it's too hot for you, it's too hot for your dog.

AVOID HOT BALCONIES: Despite being covered, a balcony can get very hot, very fast. If you see or hear a pet in distress call Animal Control

AVOID EXERCISING IN HEAT: It can put your pup at risk for heat stroke. Carry plenty of water for your dog.

IF YOU SEE A PET excessively panting, non-responsive, drooling, or listless, call Salt Lake County Animal Service's Dispatch number immediately: 801-840-4000.

For more info visit AdoptUtahPets.org or email animal@slco.org.

New City Hall Will Be Ecofriendly

Millcreek’s motto is “Connected by Nature,” so it only makes sense that the new City Hall be an example of eco-friendly building practices.

Mayor Jeff Silvestrini and the City Council have directed that the new City Hall be built as sustainably as possible. Below are twelve ways that this 21st century building will be kind to Mother Earth:

1 The building’s primary structural material is low-carbon concrete, dramatically reducing carbon footprint and the amount of greenhouse gas released during production of the material.

2 The mass timber (wood) roof was built with rapidly renewable materials, which sequesters carbon.

3 Thanks to a Rocky Mountain Power BlueSky Funding Award, the roof-mounted solar panels will provide upwards of 30% of the building energy needs on an annual basis.

4 The building orientation was intentionally selected to face east to reduce energy consumption for cooling loads on hot summer days. Morning sunlight is always cooler than the hot afternoon sun.

5 Bird-friendly glass has been utilized in areas where bird strikes would be anticipated.

6 Exterior screens will be utilized on the building to reduce cooling loads. These screens will act like micro-shades to keep temperatures down.

7 High performance glazing and thermal envelope of the building has been installed to reduce heating and cooling loads.

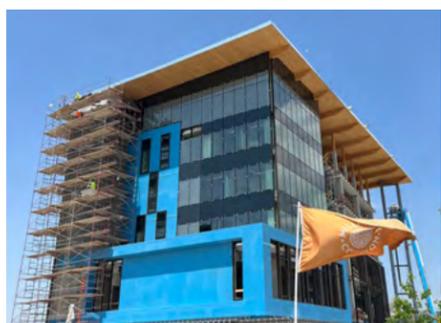

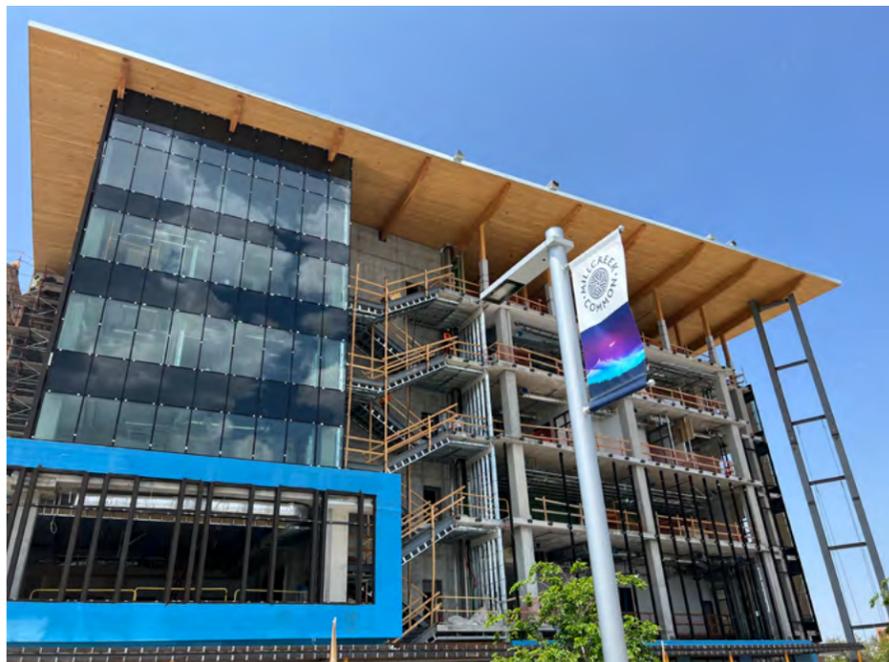

8 Access to daylight and views, as well as elements of biophilia (humans’ innate connection to nature) have been considered throughout the design to celebrate the city “Connected by Nature.”

9 Exterior insulation exceeds building code minimums to enhance occupant comfort and reduce energy needs. This insulation is designed to keep the heat in through the winter, and retain the cool air from the air conditioning in the summer.

10 The building will undergo rigorous commissioning and envelope testing to ensure the building performance meets or exceeds energy performance goals.

11 Stormwater will be infiltrated on site and return to local aquifers.

12 The building will conform with the State of Utah’s High Performance Building Standard, which ensures the project meets strict energy efficiency standards.

The New City Hall: A Community Center That Will Help Pay For Itself.

In addition to city office space, our new city hall will be an inviting gathering place for all of Millcreek. Kafe Mamai, Millcreek Coffee Roasters, and a Public Market will be on the ground floor. The Millcreek Precinct of the Unified Police Department will be on the third floor and banquet and community rental spaces will be on the top floor. Bonus! The largest outside climbing wall in Utah will be on the north-east corner.

All of these, excepting the city offices, will bring in revenue to offset costs associated with City Hall. Add to that the money saved by ecofriendly construction, grants paying for the solar panels and climbing wall, and this is a building that makes a lot of sense as well as “cents.”

I have a strong connection with The Other Side Academy by offering special hair pricing for them as they are turning their lives around for the better on purpose. Fertilizing Lawns Can Cause Big Problems

We all want green grass, especially after a record winter and a hot/dry summer. It's pretty, it smells good and feels great under bare feet! What's one way that we tend to keep our grass green and thriving? Fertilizer. It's a great tool, when used correctly, to keep grass healthy and strong. But when levels of these nutrients become too high due to excess fertilizing or waste entering streams, they can have detrimental effects on water quality and stream ecosystems, a process called eutrophication. In Utah, nutrient enrichment is a big problem in streams, ponds, rivers, and lakes. In simple terms, eutrophication is a vicious chain reaction:

Extra nitrogen and phosphorus expedite the growth of phytoplankton and algae growth in a water body, known as an algae "bloom."
 The "bloom" overtakes other natural plant species and interferes with fish and micro-organism habitats.
 The "bloom" can accelerate the growth of invasive species and reduce biodiversity. The "bloom" uses the temporarily available nutrients and then dies off.
 The dead algae sink to the bottom of water bodies and undergoes decomposition.

Bacteria in decomposition converts the previously used nutrients into inorganic forms, which are toxic to humans, fish, and wildlife.
 Decomposition also use great amounts of dissolved oxygen, which in turn, suffocates and kills fish and organisms in water bodies.
 Decomposition will cloud the water and, in some cases, induce foul smelling odor. Substantial human additions to nitrogen and phosphorus levels in water bodies can turn once-vibrant ecosystems into toxic dead zones.

Excessive fertilizer use impacts the streams in Millcreek as it washes into storm drains which carry it into our streams and lakes. Cities bear the responsibility of working to keep the water collected in storm water as clean as possible by several methods, including monitoring the streams to watch for any illicit discharges and keeping an eye on construction sites that may be contributing to storm water pollution among many other things. Our city is a member of the Salt Lake County Stormwater Coalition and works with our neighboring municipalities on this issue that impacts us all. One of the important aspects of keeping our waters clean is public education.

Please take a look at the lawn care process you use at your home and consider the potential and lasting effects when fertilizing your lawn or garden. You also might consider using native plants that require minimal amounts of artificial fertilizer.

NUTRIENT POLLUTION AND LANDSCAPE MAINTENANCE

Nutrient pollution occurs from an excess of nitrogen and phosphorus in the environment and is a growing problem. This pollution impacts people's health, our environment, opportunities for recreation, and tourism.

FERTILIZER

Fertilizers increase nitrogen and phosphorus levels and can have detrimental effects on water quality and stream ecosystems.

RAIN WASHES AWAY FERTILIZER

Avoid using fertilizer during the summer months and when rain is in the forecast.

USE JUST ENOUGH

Overwatering can carry pollutants through storm drains directly into our streams, rivers, and lakes.

KEEP IT NATIVE

Native plants require minimal amounts of artificial fertilizer.

THINK BIG

Consider the potential and lasting effects when fertilizing lawns and gardens.

The Skate Loop Legends will perform along with acrobatics, luchadores, the Flying Aces All-Stars trampoline show, and a 150-drone light show for the finale.

Luchadors (Mexican wrestlers) will set up the ring in the middle of the Common for an incredible sports spectacular where stories of technicos (good guys) fighting against rudos (bad characters) come to life. With Olympic gold-medal athleticism, the Flying Aces will take to the stage next. After years of freestyle skiing and snowboarding practice at the Utah Olympic Park, athletes will perform similar tricks using large format trampolines. You'll be stunned by these athletes from all different backgrounds, Olympians and World Champions, from all over the country.

 Finally, 150 drones will rise from atop the Granite Credit Union Adventure Hub to create an unforgettable sky show. Drones are one of the safest and most eco-friendly forms of entertainment.
 Not only will the crowd see patriotic imagery, but Millcreek themes will be intertwined into the performance choreographed to music. Perhaps Milo the Moose will even make an appearance in the sky!

We hope you'll join your neighbors and friends for Independence Eve at Millcreek Common on July 3rd from 8:00 – 10:00 pm to commemorate the holiday and continue your family traditions on July 4th. Have a safe and happy holiday!
