UPD Directed Enforcement Unit Protects Our Community

MILLCREEK. The separation of the Unified Police Department (UPD) and the Sheriff's Office was mandated by the Utah Legislature several sessions ago. As a result of the separation, changes and modifications in law enforcement services provided to our community became necessary.

Millcreek and Midvale, both members of the UPD, have worked together to fund a special Directed Enforcement Unit (DEU) that can be specifically assigned as needed to deal with extraordinary or difficult events in our communities.

This unit, comprised of four officers, two from Millcreek and two from Midvale, have already proven their worth in investigating and solving many cases. Two recent cases in particular were very concerning to the Millcreek community—a hit and run on 2300 East that resulted in a fatality and a homicide at the Monaco Apartments.

HIT AND RUN. On July 27, 2024, the UPD responded to the fatal hit and run accident. UPD investigators were able to obtain video and photographs of the suspect vehicle from cameras in the neighborhood. The Millcreek/Midvale DEU detectives were able to identify the suspect vehicle from previous investigations, and were asked to assist in locating the suspect(s) involved in the incident.

Detectives first located and interviewed the registered owner of the suspect vehicle. From the interview, detectives were able to develop information on an individual who was believed to be in possession of the suspect vehicle during the incident. Detectives interviewed known associates of the suspect and learned of a storage unit being rented by the suspect. Detectives obtained and executed a search warrant on the storage unit, resulting in the seizures of stolen property and a firearm.

On August 1, 2024, following up on a tip from a concerned citizen as to the suspect's location, detectives held surveillance on a residence in West Valley City. Detectives witnessed the suspect exit the residence and enter a vehicle in the driveway. They then converged on the suspect, who was detained and taken to the UPD's Midvale substation for an interview. DEU detectives assisted the lead investigator with interviewing the suspect, who was later booked into jail and charged with the hit-and-run, along with a variety of other offenses.

HOMICIDE. The homicide at the Monaco Apartments became another case that was quickly solved, with the arrest and charging of several suspects. Detectives in the UPD's Violent Crime Unit (VCU) investigating the August 25th homicide developed information on suspects and a suspect vehicle. DEU detectives were requested to assist. They held surveillance at a residence and observed family members scraping and removing identifiable stickers off the vehicle. DEU contacted the residents and several interviews were conducted. Additional information was obtained. DEU detectives then checked several locations for the suspect and others involved.

At another location, an additional involved vehicle was located, and a high hazard stop was conducted. A 17-year old minor was arrested and booked on homicide charges.

At yet another location, DEU with the assistance of UPD SWAT members, located and interviewed another involved party. This along with other investigative techniques, led to the location of additional suspects. An adult female was contacted at the door of the residence. The residence was contained, and callouts were made. Four juveniles exited the residence, including two suspects. After being transported to the precinct and interviewed, both were booked on homicide charges. DEU then authored a search warrant for the home and two handguns, ammunition and items used during the homicide were seized.

In all, DEU assisted with surveillance, interviews, arrests, a search warrant and handing of evidence. Great job by all and excellent teamwork demonstrated by the VCU and the DEU

The community was very relieved to hear of the swift apprehension of these suspects and thanks go to the members of the DEU for their intense work and amazing skills in solving these difficult and horrific cases.

September is National Preparedness Month

The theme for this final week (September 22-28) is:

PROTECT WHAT YOU LOVE

- There are many ways to strengthen your home from disasters. You can protect important documents and heirlooms through proper storage. Consider other protections such as flood insurance.
- Emergencies happen every day - but there are things you can do to protect yourself, our family, and your home. As you plan, consider supplies you may need to take care of small children, pets, older adults, or people with a disability.
- Having enough food, water, and medicine can help you prevent injury and stay safe and comfortable until help arrives. Visit Ready.gov/Kit for a list of basic supplies for everyone in your home to be prepared when an emergency or disaster happens.

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS BINGO

National Preparedness Month is an observance each September to raise awareness about the importance of preparing for disasters and emergencies that could happen anytime. Play the Disaster Preparedness Bingo, when you're prepared, everyone wins!

"Getting Visual" With the Arts Council at Millcreek Common

on October 4th from 6-7pm

For our October installment of 'Getting Visual,' the Millcreek Arts Council is proud to share this month's exhibition and reception at the Millcreek Common Market at 1330 E Chambers Ave. (in lieu of our usual space at the Millcreek Library Branch undergoing renovations) with art by Suzy Barton and music by Zac Parrish. The reception is October 4 from 6-7 PM. The art will remain on the main floor of the Millcreek Common Market through the month of October.

Suzy Barton. Even as a child, Suzy Barton was interested in the creative process. She attended the University of Utah where she received her BFA and MA. She majored in art, where as an undergraduate, she focused on sculpture and ceramics with a further interest in drawing and painting, graduating Suma Cum Laude. She received her MA in Art Therapy. She has shown her work in several galleries and has been accepted in many large art shows, including, Zions shows, Art and Soup, and Springville Salon.

Following graduation she obtained her counseling license and worked in Counseling and Art Therapy in a number of settings, finally retiring from Valley Mental Health. Since retirement she has focused on improving her painting skills, taking many workshops, including three with Kathryn Stats, one of which was in Italy. She is honored to present her work in this lovely setting. You can reach her at: suzy.barton@gmail.com

Zach Parrish

Local fingerstyle guitarist/singer/songwriter Zac Parrish has been obsessed with old blues and other related stuff for a very long time. He has played many thousands of gigs in Utah, around the USA, and in Europe

CONSTRUCTION UPDATES

1300 East Improvement Project

Construction crews will begin applying the new asphalt surface on 1300 East, between 4220 and 4500 South, on Thursday, September 27, through Monday, September 30. Drivers in the area may experience shifting traffic lanes and delays while traveling through the area. We advise taking alternate routes if possible and planning accordingly. Construction activities will continue until mid-October to substantially complete the project. We appreciate everyone's patience during this time. If you have any questions or concerns during these activities, please contact the project team at 385-365-0003.

3300 South Improved Construction Project

The Utah Department of Transportation plans to resurface 3300 South, between Highland Drive and 2700 East, starting as early as Monday, October 7. Construction crews are continuing to reconstruct various pedestrian access ramps along the corridor. Drivers can expect single-lane closures in both directions throughout the day and may experience delays while traveling through the area. Please consider taking alternate routes if possible and plan accordingly.
