MILLCREEK. The successor to the two years remaining in Mayor Silvestrini's term will be determined in a public City Council special meeting on Monday, November 3rd, beginning at 5:30PM. See the agenda below.

At the meeting, the City Council will interview the five candidates who have applied fill the final two years of the current mayoral term. Then, after discussion and consideration, the Council will vote on the appointment. The successful candidate will take the oath of office on November 10th, and thereafter assume the office.

The Millcreek residents who have applied to fill the position are:

- M. Jamie Walker
- M. Gardner Reid
- Jacob Richardson
- Cheri Jackson
- Curtis A. Larsen

The composition of the City Council at the November 3rd meeting will be Councilmembers Silvia Catten, Thom DeSirant, and Bev Uipi, and Mayor Silvestrini. Note that Mayor Silvestrini's resignation will not be effective until the new mayoral designee is sworn in. As such, he will participate in the November 3rd meeting because he is a member of the Council, Utah Code §10-

November Meeting

CANCELLED

3b-401, and he is eligible to vote for his successor pursuant to state law. Utah Code 20A-1-510\(4\).

Councilmember Cheri Jackson will be excluded from voting with the Council in the meeting because she has submitted an application to fill the term.

Information on the state mandated process for a midterm mayoral replacement and the candidates can be found HERE.

Residents are always welcome to attend City Council meetings in person, or watch them remotely HERE.

Election Update

MILLCREEK. If you live in Millcreek City Council District 2 or 4, be sure to vote for your council representative. The District 2 candidates are Angie Gray and Thom DeSirant. The District 4 candidates are Connor Jett Gale and Bev Uipi. Learn about the candidates HERE.

If you live in Millcreek in any of the four Council Districts, you should have received a ballot for the candidates running for positions on the Board of the Mt. Olympus Improvement District, the entity that provides sewer services throughout the City. The candidates for the District are Ami Lee Neff; Sean McKelvie; Michael McDonald; Keith Lord; Stephanie Favila-Barnhardt; Dwayne A. Vance; Corey Hudson; and Alicia de León. Click on the links to determine more information about each candidate. If the name does not have a link, the candidate did not submit a profile to the state election office. Two of the candidates will be elected to fill seats on the board.

According to today's report, 3,463 ballots have been returned out of 19,210 registered voters in Millcreek- that's just about an 18% turnout. Every vote makes a difference, so let's boost those numbers, Millcreek!

- 🗳️ Drop your ballot in the Official Ballot Drop Box at the north side of Millcreek Common located just east of City Hall, 1330 E Chambers Ave, by November 4th
- ✅ Vote in person on November 4 at any Salt Lake County vote center

REMEMBER - Ballots must be received on Election Day, November 4th, not postmarked that day as has been the case in the past, so mailing your ballot this late risks it not being counted.

Take the UWLP Survey

MILLCREEK. Our city is partnering with the Utah Women & Leadership Project (UWLP) to do a comprehensive study for the state of Utah related to the A Bolder Way Forward areas of focus. We encourage you to participate. See the details below from the UWLP:

The Utah Women & Leadership Project (UWLP) is conducting a statewide study to explore more deeply Utahns' understanding, awareness, attitudes, concerns, and perceptions around challenges that women and girls face. We welcome all individuals living in the state age 18 or older to participate. The survey will take 10-20 minutes to complete. Dr. Susan Madsen is the primary researcher for this study. If you have questions or concerns, you can contact her at uwlp@usu.edu (USU IRB 15264). You can participate by clicking here or scanning the QR Code below.

Collection of Hard-to-Recycle Materials was a Great Success

MILLCREEK. The Millcreek CHaRM \(Collection of Hard-to-Recycle Materials\) event held on October 11th was extremely successful, with residents stopping by to drop off all sorts of materials that can be recycled but should not be put into your blue recycling can for collection.

The event, held in coordination with the Utah Recycling Alliance and the Wasatch Front Waste & Recycling District (WFWRD), gave residents the opportunity to dispose of hard to recycle materials and to learn some recycling basics.

Material Collected	Per Pound	Material Recycler
Batteries	534	Assetworx
Bicycles	302.9	Bicycle Collective
Carpet Pad	20	Recycle It
E-Waste (general)	3675	Assetworx
Mattress	150	Recycle It
Metal	800	Reds Metal Recycling
Oral Care	7.2	Unitarian / Terracycle
Paper Shedding	580	Ace Disposal
Plastic Clamshells	43	Recyclops
Plastic Film	131	Recyclops
Skis/Snowboards	376	Ski Trucks
Socks	36.6	Unitarian / Terracycle
Styrofoam (EPS)	32	Recyclops
Tires & Tubes	680	Liberty Tire
Total	7,368

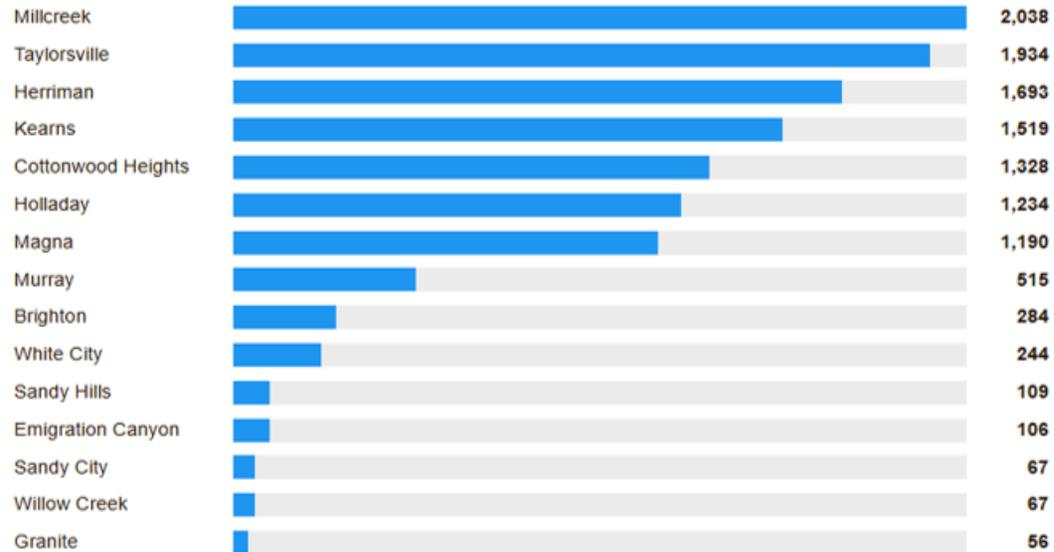

Plans are already in the works for providing another CHaRM event in the coming year. Millcreekers have taken recycling to heart and do a great job of helping keep materials that could be reused out of the landfill, extending the life of the landfill along with doing their part to recycle properly.

The WFWRD has published its annual list of pounds of material that have been recycled in the District, and once again Millcreekers have led the way. Congratulations and thanks!

House Bill 107 – Recycling Reporting & Transparency

In response to HB107 requiring political subdivisions to publish information about the collection of recyclable materials, we are happy to share “District Statistics” on our website under the “About” tab.

The chart below includes recycling tonnages collected throughout the District’s service areas from January through September 2025 totaling 12,582 tons!

MESSAGES FROM OUR PARTNERS

Important Message from the Salt Lake County Health Department

Probable First Case of Measles in Salt Lake County

The Salt Lake County Health Department (SLCoHD) has announced that they have identified what is likely the first case of measles in Salt Lake County in the current nationwide outbreak.

Community members who are contacted by the public health system can confirm a public health worker's legitimacy by ensuring emails are coming from a .gov email address, such as SLCoHD was alerted to the probable case late Monday, October 27, and promptly attempted to contact the patient to conduct a disease investigation.

“The patient has declined to be tested, or to fully participate in our disease investigation, so we will not be able to technically confirm the illness or properly do contact tracing to warn anyone with whom the patient may have had contact,” said Dorothy Adams, SLCoHD executive director. “But based on the specific symptoms reported by the healthcare provider and the limited conversation our investigators have had with the patient, this is very likely a case of measles in someone living in Salt Lake County.”

Officials ask that if a public health worker contacts you, please speak with them and provide the information they’re seeking so they can properly investigate the situation and hopefully prevent further illness in our community.

“Information we get during illness interviews is completely confidential, and we do not share it with anyone—including federal, state, or other local government agencies,” continued Adams. “We collect the information only to investigate the source of illness and attempt to prevent further spread.”

@SaltLakeCounty.gov. They can confirm contact made by phone by asking the worker to send an email from the worker’s verified .gov email address. They may also call a publicly listed phone number for their state or local health department (385-468-4100 for SLCoHD) and ask to be transferred to the investigator who called them.

Measles is one of the most contagious viruses known. It is so easily spread that people who are not immune have a 90% chance of getting the disease if they are near an infected person. Someone with measles can spread it to others even before they know they are ill, and the virus can linger in the air for up to two hours after an infected person has left the area.

The best protection against measles is to be immunized with two doses of a measles-containing vaccine, which is most commonly the MMR (measles, mumps and rubella) vaccine. Two doses of MMR vaccine prevent more than 97 percent of measles infections. In the remaining 3 percent of circumstances—when a fully vaccinated person catches measles—the symptoms are milder, the illness is shorter and the infected person is less likely to spread the disease to others.

Unvaccinated people, including children too young to be vaccinated, are more likely to have severe complications from a measles infection.

Measles vaccine recommendations vary based on age and vaccination history:

- Children should receive two doses of measles vaccine: one dose at 12 to 15 months of age and another at 4 to 6 years.
- Adults born before 1957 generally do not need to be vaccinated because they are likely already immune to measles due to widespread infection and illness before the measles vaccine became available in 1963.
- Adults who were vaccinated before 1968 should have a second dose because the vaccine used from 1963–1967 was less effective than the current vaccine, which became available in 1968.
- Adults who were vaccinated in 1968 or later are considered fully protected whether they have one or two doses, though certain higher risk groups (college students, healthcare workers, international travelers) should have two doses.

To find out if you or your child needs a dose of measles vaccine, talk to your health care provider or check your immunization record. Most Utahns' immunization records are available via the secure Docket app or website.

If you're unsure about your vaccination status and don't have record of having received an MMR, there is no harm in getting an additional dose now. The MMR vaccine is widely available at local pharmacies, doctor's offices or SLCoHD immunization clinics; call 385-468-SHOT to schedule a vaccination appointment at a health department clinic.

Tiny white spots typically appear inside the mouth 2 to 3 days after symptoms begin. Then, 3 to 5 days after the first symptoms, a rash appears. The rash usually begins as flat, red spots at the hairline or on the face, which then spread down the body.

Many people with measles will have mild symptoms, but about 1 in 5 unvaccinated people who get measles will need to be hospitalized.

Young children, pregnant women and people who have weakened immune systems are more likely to have serious problems from measles.

Health officials also ask health care providers to keep measles in mind when diagnosing patients, and to immediately isolate anyone who presents with symptoms consistent with measles.

Measles symptoms usually start 7 to 14 days after infection and include fever, cough, runny nose and red or watery eyes.

If you think you have measles or learn you've been around someone with measles, contact your health care provider immediately. Tell them about your measles concern so they can make special arrangements to see you without putting other people at risk.

Mayor Silvestrini has met with some pretty nice folks over the years. Happy Halloween to all Millcreekers!

Meetings with the Mayor

Since next Friday will be my next-to-last day in office, I won't really be in a position to address residents' concerns, so I will be taking the afternoon off (or probably mucking out my office). It has been my pleasure to meet with so many of you over the years. Thank you for helping to keep me informed about the issues that were of concern to you. We have not been able to solve every one of them, but we surely made a dent fixing many of them! I hope to see you at the reception next Wednesday evening at City Hall. It has been my great honor to serve as your mayor and I wish you, as well as the next mayor, all the best!
